

AFTER FORTY-FOUR YEARS.

Col. J. J. Warner's First Visit to the East Since 1840.

(S. F. Bulletin.)

Col. J. J. Warner, of Los Angeles, has just returned from a prolonged visit to the Atlantic Coast. He left California last May to visit the East for the first time in forty-four years, and during his extended travels was not in ill-health for one hour. He traveled from San Francisco to Kansas City by the Southern Pacific and Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railways, and went to Cincinnati over the Wabash line. He remained two days in the Queen City of Ohio, and then went to Washington, sojourning there several days with his kinsfolk, the family of Chief Justice Waite. In Washington he met President Arthur and says he is a charmingly agreeable gentleman, and very popular indeed among those who know him best. At Toledo he remained a week, and in New York tarried about the same length of time. A month was passed in the valley of the Connecticut river among old friends and relatives. Of course everything in the East seemed changed, but Col. Warner anticipated changes in forty-four years, and was not greatly surprised. The growth of New York commanded attention and naturally excited surprise.

The return trip to California was made from St. Louis by the Missouri Pacific, Kansas Pacific, and Union and Central Pacific lines.

Col. Warner made political observations, and reaches the conclusion that Blaine will carry New York by a very large majority and certainly be elected. The so-called independent defection is very slight and diminishing every day. The votes taken on the trains all the way from New England to California showed that Blaine received two to Cleveland's one.

Among the men of prominence that Col. Warner had the pleasure of meeting were Gen. Sheridan, Gen. Hancock, Robert Lincoln and Justice Miller.

Bradstreet's Mercantile Agency reports sixteen failures in the Pacific Coast States and Territories for the week ending yesterday, as compared with twenty-eight for the previous week, and thirteen for the corresponding week of 1883.

THAT BOY STEVE.

San Franciscans who had occasion to visit the old City Hall in that city about twenty years ago may perhaps remember a tall, overgrown, sandy haired boy with big hands and feet, who worked in the fire alarm telegraph office. He was a jolly, good natured youth, and much given to practical jokes. Indeed, to such an extent did he carry his joking propensities that it was often remarked that "Steve" would never amount to anything, for the reason that he would never come down to the practical matter of fact details of life, but would always "be a boy." Despite his apparent heedlessness, and his love of fun, Steve seemed to take to the manipulation of electricity by intuition. True, his experiments always had some practical joke in view, but they all tended to show a variety of ways in which the electric current could be directed and utilized. The office was a convenient loafing place in winter for the loungers about the building, who used to delight in sitting by the fire in the stove, and occasionally stir up the waning coals with the poker. Steve connected the stove and the chair, which was placed on a wet mat, with the battery, and when the visitor picked up the poker and stirred the fire, the circuit was complete, and caused the intruder to leap into the air under the impression that he had been struck by a streak of invisible lightning, which was really a pretty shrewd guess. On another occasion he wet the door mat and attached a wire from the battery to the interior end of the door knob. The visitor grasping the door knob to enter was shocked at the effect. And now we learn that this boy has become famous through the invention and patenting of a means of moving cars by an electric current supplied to the rails from a stationary source of power, and the name of Stephen D. Field stands among those of the great inventors of the age. Of course the idea is not new, for electric railways have been in existence for several years. Siemens constructed one at Berlin for the exposition in 1879. A similar one was in operation at the Vienna Electrical Exhibition. The railway at Port Rush, in Ireland, where water power is utilized to run the dynamo machines that supply the current to the motor, has been in working order for some years. Mr. Edison's little railway at Menlo Park has been the subject of many newspaper articles. But priority of invention in this country belongs, as has just been decided by the Patent Office, to Mr. Stephen D. Field, whose caveat, filed May 21, 1879, covers the principle upon which all successful electric railways have been run.

The advantages of electricity over steam in economy, safety and the absence of the present disagreeable features of railway traveling are tremendous. It is now only a question of time and money when electric motors shall replace steam locomotives and horse cars on city roads, and of a little more time and money when they shall be used on the great trunk lines. The electric motor is no longer a possibility, or a probability, but an accomplished fact.

The possibilities that lie in the future development and extension of this invention are almost too great for comprehension. The facts of applied science are more wonderful than the most daring imagination of the romancer. Mr. Field's achievement will work a revolution as great as that accomplished by George Stephenson. His conception of the idea when a young man of twenty, his perseverance under repeated rebuffs and interruptions, his ingenuity in using whatever imperfect means were at hand for the accomplishment of the ends he had in view, the mechanical genius that solved difficulties as they arose, and perfected and simplified the machinery already in use—all these mark him as one of the men who must succeed because he commands and compels success.

The charge that Blaine was a Know Nothing in 1856 has been completely exploded, the proof being conclusive that he not only was never a member of that party, but that on the contrary, he was opposed to it. But in any event the charge comes with poor grace from the Democratic side of the house. If any stigma is to be attached to public men who went off on the Know Nothing craze, certainly the Democrats ought to keep very quiet on the subject. In California the party was made up almost entirely of what afterwards became the chivalry wing of the Democracy and was strong enough to carry that State. Its greatest strength, however, laid in the Southern States. In those States which are now Republican it cut but a small figure. In Iowa it polled only 9,180 votes; Maine, 3,325; Michigan, 1,660; New Hampshire, 422; Vermont, 545; Wisconsin, 579, and all of the free States, including California, the only one in which it was successful, the aggregate Know Nothing vote was 393,590, while its aggregate vote in the slave holding States, with a much smaller voting population, was 479,463, and it gave the Democrats a close rub in all of them. The Know Nothings of the South, who are now living, are training in the Democratic party. The Southern Chivalry have always been outspoken in their dislike of foreigners and it is a matter of history that foreigners were never welcomed there before the war. In the campaign of 1856 Mr. Blaine was an earnest supporter of Fremont, while nearly one-half of the voters of the Southern States, who are now Democrats, were helping the cause of Fillmore, the Know Nothing candidate.

The Arctic fools are not all dead yet, and Engineer Melville may be classed as one of the members yet surviving. Notwithstanding his terrible experiences in the Jeanette expedition, and the sad fate of nearly all of his companions he now proposes to go on another expedition in search of the North Pole. The money for defraying the cost of the expedition is said to have been subscribed at a banquet of the New York Yacht Club, when Melville's "theory" was explained and indulged over the wine and nuts. It is to be hoped that these kid glove mariners of the Hudson and venturesome explorers of Plum Gut thought better of their proffer of funds after a few glasses of seltzer the next morning.

The warfare between Governor Stoneman and Attorney-General Marshall continues, the Attorney-General refusing to permit Hinton, the recently appointed Police Commissioner, to use the name of "the people" to test his right to the office. And now comes Jim Johnson and bombards the Governor with three columns of charges of bad faith and duplicity. The Democratic party in California is bound to have harmony if it has to fight for it.

The Virginia Chronicle publishes in parallel columns what purports to be "what the two national platforms for 1884 have to say about the continuance of our protective tariff," and triumphantly asks where there is any free trade doctrine in either. Unfortunately for the point it seeks to make, it does not publish the entire Democratic tariff plank but only such portions as suits its purpose.

The sloggers seem to be having things their own way all over the country. The dispatches are filled with detailed accounts of these brutal contests which are held publicly and without other interruption than is natural in such crowds. When will the authorities awaken to a sense of their official and moral duties?

The Contest in West Virginia.

Representative Goff, of West Virginia, passed through Washington last Wednesday on his way to Maine, where he is to take the stump. He feels very confident of success for the Republicans in his State. He says that the fusion ticket of Republicans and Greenbackers will have a majority in the State, and he has no doubt they will carry the First and Fourth Congressional districts, and he thinks they will likely carry the Third. The result in the State, he says, depends upon the size of the majorities they get in the first two named districts. If they get good majorities in these they have the election sure. He says he is not a candidate for re-election himself, but that a good Republican can carry his district. The great influence that will induce the people to vote for Blaine is the promise of protection in building up their mining and manufacturing interests. "More money is being used on the State," he said, "than is needed for legitimate purposes."

Virginia Election Laws.

Both Houses of the General Assembly of Virginia last Saturday passed a bill reenacting the old election laws existing before the passage of the bill at the last session, which was declared unconstitutional by the Court of Appeals. This action was deemed necessary under the report of the joint special committee appointed to investigate whether, under said decision, any election law existed in the State.

Robert Ingersoll will not be present at the opening of the San Francisco Republican Wigwam. Tom Fitch, the "Silver-tongued" will deliver the address. Ingersoll will be in San Francisco sometime during September and will speak in the Wigwam.

A Chinaman's Idea of the Situation.

Wong He Chong, one of the wealthiest Chinese merchants in New York describes the statue before the war as follows: "Annam was progressing prosperously when the French secretly made a treaty with a dissolute and drunken Governor, who signed the concession making France the Governor and master of Annam. It is just the same as if the Governor of New Jersey or Delaware should, while drunk, convey his State to Germany or Russia. The proceeding would simply reflect discredit upon him personally and would be null and void. Then without notice to us the French declare war upon this very man, and bring to bear against him all the power of their great nation. They want themselves upon their valor and victories. A nation of 40,000,000 conquering a petty official, who at the furthest could bring together an army of 5,000 unpaid, unequipped and undisciplined men. Five hundred American or English soldiers could have done the same thing in less time. After that the French passed beyond the Annamese border and attacked one of our regiments. They had 6,000 men, we had 800, although they telegraphed all over the world that we had a force of 20,000 massed at a strategic point. Besides our orders were peremptory not to fight. The only fighting we therefore did was what was necessary in order to retreat successfully, and for this they now say, either pay us millions or we will slaughter your people and burn your cities. This is what they call civilization and Christianity. Do you wonder that we Orientals look askant at the people and the creed under whose name such things are done? We shall fight unless the great powers interfere on account of injury to our commerce; we will transfer our commerce to England, United States and Germany. France is afraid of the last nation and won't dare to attack its ships. Our navy is in good condition and our army is well armed and trained according to your method. The most of our fortifications are modern earth works and no longer stone towers and fortresses. We have a few torpedoes, but we have at Peking and Mooka a naval school where the theory of torpedoes is taught, and at Peking a small manufactory of torpedoes under the supervision of a talented English mechanic. I think, however, that the great powers will interfere. The Chinese commerce is vast in magnitude. England, the United States, Russia, in fact every European power, exchanges goods with us in millions. Except England, we have, I think, the largest commerce on the face of the globe. You are apt to overlook the fact that we are a trade centre for Corea, Siberia, Japan, Annam, Siam, Burma, Tibet, Tartary and India. Why, our trade with Peru and Chile alone exceeds $35,000,000 per annum, and as for this country the report of the Chamber of Commerce shows how immense it has become. China is a business nation. It wants peace, not war. It desires to learn everything that will increase the producing power of its people and their wealth. It does not study military art and science, but buys these in an open market. In fact, some of the best officials are Frenchmen, and in case of war they will be compelled to fight their own countrymen. Nevertheless, I hope there will be an international conference and that France will be checked in her bullying career."

Yom Lee, the Chinese Sheriff, said he was glad that China had come to her senses and would stand up for her own rights against the bullying French. Had China done otherwise, all her inhabitants would have rose in arms and turned against the officials. They have spent too much money on military improvement to go off without at least making a little effort to show the people what they can do.

Chinatown wore the appearance of peaceful satisfaction when they heard of China's final refusal to pay the French indemnity, although a few who have families and property in Foo Chow felt a little dubious and began to burn joss sticks for Buddha Gotama to bless and protect them.

David Avery Captured.

VIENNA, Ill., August 25.—David Avery, who a week ago shot and killed a fellow-farmer named Daniel George, and afterwards excited the population for miles around by other atrocities, especially acts of arson, was captured today near Shawneetown by Sheriff Whitaker and a deputy. There is intense feeling here, and a lynching is predicted.

The San Francisco Evening Post publishes the statement of Mrs. Abbie L. Marble, employed in the San Francisco Postoffice and a sister of Mrs. J. G. Blaine, denying that Mrs. Blaine's father forced Blaine at the point of a shotgun to marry her. Mrs. Marble says the circumstances are simply impossible, as her father died in January, 1845, and never knew or saw Blaine, and it was not till six years after his death that her sister, Miss Stanwood, now Mrs. Blaine, met Mr. Blaine for the first time.

BLAINE IN THE SOUTH.

An Ex-Senator Says He will Probably Carry Louisiana.

(New York Mail and Express, Aug. 12.)

Ex-Senator George E. Spencer, who sat in the Alabama Senate for twelve years as the representative from Huntsville, was met on Fifth avenue by a reporter for the Mail and Express this afternoon. "I can only repeat what every well informed Republican in the country thinks," said he, "and that is that the prospects could not possibly be brighter."

"How about Alabama?" "There is not much probability of Alabama's vote going to any party but the Democrats, although it is properly a Republican State and would always prove itself one if a fair count could be obtained."

"Do you think Mr. Blaine will carry any of the Southern States?"

"I do. The prospect of his carrying Louisiana is first-rate, and there is a strong probability of West Virginia and North Carolina going Republican. We shall at any rate gain some Republican Congressmen in the South on the protective issue. There is a strong protective feeling, especially in Louisiana, where the sugar interests recognize that protection is very necessary to their welfare."

"What do you think of Butler's candidacy?"

"It insures Republican success beyond doubt. Yes, he will draw votes from both parties, but for every one lost to the Republicans by his candidacy, the Democrats will lose ten."

"Have you anything to say of the chances in Ohio?"

"Ohio is good for 25,000 majority in October to the Republicans. The party is better united there, and there is less disaffection in Ohio than in any other State in the Union."

THE ASSESSOR QUESTION.

The Tuscarora Times-Review says: In some of the counties in the State the proposition to run candidates for Assessor is being discussed. It is proposed to elect new men and let them test the law enacted by the last Legislature, extending the term of the present Assessors two years beyond the time for which they were elected. While the Times-Review was opposed to the passage of the bill, and the writer of this voted and spoke against it in the Legislature, it is nevertheless our belief that any attempt to defeat it in the Courts would prove futile, and that it would be a waste of time and money for any candidate to run for the office with the expectation of getting possession of it by means of litigation. The office is not a constitutional one. It was created by the Legislature and that body has full and absolute control over it. It could, if it chose, abolish it altogether, or it could enact a law giving itself the power to make the appointments for every county in the State. Under our present Constitution, the Legislature of 1879 could extend the term of the Assessors elected for four years in 1886, two years longer, making six altogether, the only restriction being the constitutional clause which forbids any State or county officer being elected or appointed for a longer term than four years.

POLITICAL ASSESSMENTS.

(Carson Appeal.) About this time of year the Democratic newspapers print dispatches announcing that the Government employees are addressing letters to the bonds of departments asking them if it is obligatory upon them to pay what is generally known as the campaign assessments.

There is unfortunately a large class of people in the Government employ who are unwilling to pay a single dollar, if they can avoid it, towards the regular expenses of the Presidential campaign. We should imagine that a man who had any glimmer in him at all would be glad to assist in keeping to the fore a party whose success gives him his daily bread and butter. When a man who gets seven or eight dollars a day—for holding an office that does not require over two hours' work—makes a wry face at paying a political assessment, the amount of his regard for the party can be pretty accurately gauged. It is a common thing, however, and we might say almost the regular thing, for the people who hold office to insist that everybody else shall foot the campaign bills, while they get the offices and draw the salaries. Any officer-holder who tries to crawl out of a campaign assessment is a worthless chump.

England's Deceit and Treachery.

In France the suspicion is universal that the English have urged on the Chinese to war, and the comments of the English press, which are all favorable to China now, as they were to the Southern States during the late American civil war, lend some countenance to the suspicion. The bitterness of feeling may be gathered from the comments of a Paris newspaper, which describes England as the cause of all the trouble. "England," continues this remarkable article, "has hypocritically encouraged these barbarians. Her pride is merely brutal egotism; her courage is a matter of guineas. Obviously perfidious and ridiculously impotent, England is now in the Chinese what she was in the Egyptian affair—deceitful, false and treacherous."

Answer to Man-Trap.

I am very sorry that Mr. Wales Knox was so unfortunate as to meet with a painful accident by falling into my open ditch. In the first place I have taken every precaution for safety I could. I have put in bridges and crossings at quite an expense, and at the place spoken of any person that could fall and receive injuries must have been asleep or had too much whisky party. I don't think that the editor of the Gazette would have stopped operations on his residence because there was a circus coming. I am sorry that I have not got $180 to give to the Gazette so that I could be called a good fellow. I want it understood that it is not an opposition water company at all, but that I am going into business with A. T. Rice. I am to furnish pure water and he the milk. L. W. LER.

Methodist Conference.

The Methodist Conference closed its session in Genoa last Sunday night. It was resolved that hereafter the Conference should be known as the Nevada Mission. It was further determined to take active steps to establish a school of collegiate grade either in Carson or Reno. Following are the appointments as far as at present made: Bodie, J. B. Bradshaw; Mason Valley, F. M. Willis; Bishop Creek, Warren Nims; Genoa, George Jennings; Virginia, N. G. Luke; Austin, C. H. Kirkbride; Truckee, Lorr Ewing; Susanville, O. L. Barstow; Winnemucca, G. W. James; Reno, Eureka and several other places were left to be supplied by ministers from abroad. G. W. De La Matye was made Superintendent. J. D. Hammond took no definite appointment, but will remain in Carson preaching in different places as occasion may demand, as formerly.

Blackleg in Eureka County.

A fatal disease has broken out among calves in Pine Valley, south of Palisade. The Eureka Sentinel says: The disease rarely attacks stock over a year old, though it does so occasionally. The victims to it are, also, nearly always fat calves, the lean ones being passed over by it. It appears at first as a lump on the brisket. Thence it extends down into the leg, turning the flesh black. It is generally fatal, but may, at times, be cured. Stockmen say that by lancing the lump calves are occasionally cured. A dirty, watery matter runs out, which gives relief. After the disease has gone far, there is apparently no known remedy.

An Unfortunate Accident.

Deputy Clerk Knox in going home about 9 o'clock Tuesday night, stepped into the ditch on Fourth street, recently excavated for Lee's water pipe. He fell violently against the opposite bank and cut his lip and two fingers badly, besides receiving other severe bruises. Dr. Bergman took two stitches in the lip to hold it in place. Stepping thus unconsciously into a ditch more than two feet deep the wonder is that his injuries were not more serious. The doctor thinks no evil results will follow unless erysipelas should ensue. While the ditch is required to remain open it would be a wise precaution to place a lighted lantern at all the crossings.

Naches' Wheat Crop.

Naches, the Pinto chief, says the Silver State has raised a fine crop of grain on Big Meadows. Last week he had six squaws and three bucks harvesting it. He thinks there are about sixty acres of grain and that it will yield about thirty bushels to the acre. The Indian harvesters use sickles and cut the grain a little below the heads.

Lecture Friday Night.

Rev. G. W. James has been assigned by the M. E. Conference to Winnemucca. He will be in Reno next Friday, and on that evening will favor the people of Reno with his lecture on the Lick Observatory. The lecture will probably be given in the Methodist Church. The lecture will be free and all are invited.

No doubt there are several mines on the Comstock that could pool their issues without material injury to stockholders.

NEVADA FRUIT AND FLOWERS.

Carson Index.

A visit to, and inspection of, the fine large orchard of Hon. Ross Lewers, of Washoe Valley, reveals what may be accomplished in our climate and suitably selected localities in the raising of fruits peculiar to the temperate zone. Twenty years ago Mr. Lewers began setting out apple, pear and other fruit trees in the warm, moist and rich soil on the foothills in the southwestern part of the valley, and for the last fifteen years he has enjoyed the growth and perfection of more or less fruit, which is of the most perfect flavor. The ground slopes rapidly to the east and seems to be out of the atmospheric belt in which the late frosts of Spring are apt to be experienced. Every year he has increased the planting of trees and the smaller fruits until he has now not much less than 15 acres of orchard and fruit bearing shrubs. The present season witnesses a really marvelous production of every variety of fruit which he has cultivated. The trees are loaded almost beyond their strength with beautiful apples, pears and plums, which in the main are sound, and all of the choicest kinds and flavor. Mr. Lewers' labors have been remarkably aided to a successful issue through the attention of his excellent and cultured wife and large family of intelligent children.

In this connection it may be observed that a great deal of the fruit in Nevada this year has been more or less affected by that pest of orchards, the Codling moth. Many of the apples disclose the ravages of the worm, or grub, inside. On Mr. Lewers' ranch, however, the fruit has been saved to a remarkable degree from this defect. From careful reading and practicing, Mrs. Lewers and the younger members of the family have succeeded in trapping an immense proportion of the pestiferous insects. The expedient resorted to is of the simplest. About the boll of each tree, about two and a half to three feet from the ground, an ordinary strip or rag of old woolen or other cloth, is passed around and held in place by a tack which pierces the meeting ends of the rag and is pressed into the bark of the trunk. The worm ascends from the ground and passes between the rag and the bark and thus finds a resting place which just pleases him. He is as lively and spry as a sagebrush lizard, and some caution must be exercised in securing him as the cloth is loosened from the tree for the search. They will frequently drop quickly to the ground and disappear. This little fellow passes through all the stages of cocoon, grub and moth and increases 5,000 per cent. twice each season. It is through such intelligent and and pains taking attention that Mr. Lewers' ranch is so near perfection. Mr. Lewers will have this year over two thousand boxes of perfect and delicious apples.

Aside from the fruit question, Mrs. Lewers has devoted the greatest attention to the cultivation of rare varieties of flowers, perennial and annual, as well as very ornamental shrubs. The grounds about the residence have been nicely terraced and floriculture has been thus conducted to the most gratifying success.

A home has thus been reared in our arid climate which could not be excelled anywhere. Broad acres of meadow, pasture and plow land are spread about the dwelling, and a happy family have learned to love Nevada as an abiding place. Mr. Lewers has been honored with office and was a member of the Assembly in 1881. He is recognized at the Agricultural Department at Washington as one of the most satisfactory of all the distributors of seeds, etc., which are annually sent into every State. He receives remembrances of this character in great number and variety. It is a pleasure to visit a homestead where there is so much to entertain and instruct observing persons. Callers are always treated to a plenteous of fruit and elegant flowers—than which nothing is more pleasing.

Angry words passed, leading to a desperate battle, resulting in the death of both fathers and the young assassin.

POLITICAL. PLATFORM -OF THE- NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PARTY Adopted by the National Republican Convention at Chicago.

The Republicans of the United States, in National Convention assembled, renew their allegiance to the principles upon which they have triumphed in six successive Presidential elections and congratulate the American people on the attainment of so many results in legislation and administration, by which the Republican party has, after saving the Union, done so much to render its institutions just, equal and beneficent, the safeguard of liberty and the embodiment of the best thought and highest purposes of our citizens. The Republican party has gained its strength by a quick and faithful response to the demands of the people for freedom and equality of all men for the colored nation, securing the rights of all citizens, for the elevation of labor, for an honest currency, for purity in legislation and for integrity and accountability in all the departments of the Government, and it accepts anew the duty of leading in the work of progress and reform.

We lament the death of President Garfield, whose sound statesmanship, long conspicuous in Congress, gave promise of a strong and successful administration, a promise fully realized during the short period of his office as President of the United States. His distinguished success in war and peace has endeared him to the hearts of the American people. In the administration of President Arthur we recognize a wise, conservative and patriotic policy, under which the country has been blessed with remarkable prosperity. We believe his eminent services are well paid and will receive the hearty approval of every citizen.

It is the first duty of a good Government to protect the rights and promote the interests of its own people. The largest diversity of industry is most productive of general prosperity and the comfort and independence of the people, the taxpayers, without inquiring the laborer or the great productive interests of the country.

We recognize the importance of sheep husbandry in the United States, the serious depression which it is now experiencing, and the danger threatening its future prosperity, and we therefore respect the demands of the representatives of this important agricultural interest for the readjustment of the duty upon foreign wool, in order that such industry shall have full and adequate protection. We therefore demand that the imposition of duties on foreign imports be made not only for revenue only, but that in raising the requisite revenue for the Government such duties shall be so levied as to afford security to our diversified industries and protection to the rights and wages of the laborer, to the end that active and intelligent labor, as well as capital, may have its just reward, and the laboring man his full share in the national prosperity.

Against the accursed economic system of the Democratic party, which degrades our labor to the foreign standard, we enter our earnest protest. The Democratic party has failed completely to relieve the people of the burden of taxation by the reduction of the tariff, and the Republican party pledges itself to correct the irregularities of the tariff and reduce the surplus not by the vicious and indiscriminate process of horizontal reduction, but by such methods as will give the taxpayer without injuring the laborer or the great productive interests of the country. The Republican party favors a policy which shall keep us out of entangling alliances with foreign nations and shall reserve the right to expect that foreign nations shall refrain from meddling in American affairs. The policy which seeks peace can trade with all Powers, but especially with those of the Western Hemisphere.

We demand the restoration of our navy to its old-time strength and efficiency, that it may in any sea protect the rights of American citizens and the interests of American commerce, and we call upon Congress to remove the barriers under which American shipping has been depressed, so that it may again be true that we have a commerce.

It is the duty of Congress to enact such laws as will protect the rights of the people, and to divorce the political from the ecclesiastical power of the so-called Mormon Church, and that the laws so enacted should be rigidly enforced by the civil authorities, if possible, and by the military, if need be.

The people of the United States, in their organized capacity, constitute a nation and not a mere confederacy of States. The National Government is supreme within the sphere of its national duty, but the States have reserved rights which should be faithfully maintained. We have always recommended the best money system to the civilized world, and we urge that efforts should be made to unite all the commercial nations in the establishment of an international standard, which shall fix for all the relative value of gold and silver coinage.

The regulations of commerce with foreign nations and the States in one of the most important prerogatives of the general Government, and the Republican party distinctly announces its purpose to support such legislation as will fully and efficiently exercise the constitutional power of Congress over interstate commerce.

The principle of the public regulation of railroad corporations is a wise and salutary one for the protection of all classes of the people, and we favor legislation that shall prevent unjust discrimination and excessive charges for transportation, and that shall secure to the people and the railways alike the fair and equal rate of the service.

We favor the establishment of a national bureau of labor, the enforcement of the eight-hour law, and a wise and judicious system of general education by adequate appropriations from the national revenue where the same is needed.

We believe that everywhere the protection accorded to citizens of American birth must be secured to citizens by American adoption, and we favor the settlement of national difficulties by international arbitration.

The Republican party, having its birth in a hatred of slave labor and a desire that all men may be truly free and equal, is unalterably opposed to placing our workingmen in competition with any form of servile labor, whether at home or abroad. In this spirit we denounce the importation of contract labor, whether from Europe or Asia, as an offense against the spirit of American institutions, and we pledge ourselves to sustain the present law restricting Chinese immigration and to provide such further legislation as is necessary to carry out its purpose.

The reform of the civil service anxiously begun under Republican administration should be completed by the further extension of the reform system already established by law to all grades of the service, so that it is applicable. The spirit and purpose of the reform should be observed in all executive appointments and all laws in variance with the object of existing reform legislation should be repealed, to the end that the dangers to free institutions which lurk in the power of official patronage may be wisely and effectively avoided.

The public lands are a heritage of the people of the United States and should be reserved, as far as possible, for small holdings by actual settlers. We are opposed to the acquisition of large tracts of these lands by corporations or individuals, especially where such holdings are in the hands of non-resident aliens, and we will endeavor to obtain such legislation as will tend to correct this evil. We demand of Congress the speedy forfeiture of all land grants which have lapsed by reason of non-compliance with the acts of incorporation, in all cases where there has been no attempt in good faith to perform the conditions of such grants. The perpetuity of our institutions rests upon the maintenance of the free ballot, honest count and correct returns. We denounce the fraud and violence practiced by the Democratic party in the Southern States, by which the will of the voter is defeated, as dangerous to the preservation of our free institutions, and we solemnly arraign the Democratic party as being the guilty recipient of the fruits of such fraud and violence. We extend to the Republican party of the South, regardless of their former party affiliations, our cordial sympathy and pledge to them our most earnest efforts to promote the passage of such legislation as will secure to every citizen of whatever race and color the full and complete recognition, possession and exercise of his civil and political rights.

Appointments by the President to offices in the Territories should be made from bona fide

POLITICAL. THE PLATFORM OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, Adopted at the State Convention Held at Virginia City on April 30, 1884.

The Republican party of Nevada in convention assembled reaffirm their devotion to the principles of the great National Republican party, and reiterate its faith in its ability to carry on the General Government in the same spirit of justice, intelligence and progress, respect for human rights and regard for the interests and dignity of labor which have characterized its history for more than a quarter of a century.

Resolved, That the wise, considerate and judicious administration of President Arthur commends itself to the entire confidence and respect of the American people.

Resolved, That the Republican party has at all times been, and still is, the friend and protector of the great National Republican party, and that the Chinese race into this country dangerous and inimical to the deserved success and prosperity of American laborers, and still pledges itself to advocate and favor such a line of policy as will protect and foster the interests of labor, and while the recent law of Congress restricting the immigration of the Chinese has approved itself to the people, we demand that it be supplemented by such further legislation as may be necessary to attain the object in view, but also prohibit the wholesale importation of persons on contract of labor from any country.

Resolved, That in view of the increased prosperity of the people at large and the degree consequent upon the wise and settled policy of the Government, we deem it impolitic at present to attempt any change in the revenue and tariff laws now in force.

Resolved, That the reaction in duties on imported wools, made by the Act of Congress in March, 1883, resulted in paralyzing the business of wool growing in the United States and in transferring the same to foreign nations, and we demand the restoration of the wool tariff of 1867 at the earliest possible moment.

Resolved, That gold and silver have co-existed and formed the monetary circulation of the world since the origin of human society, that the agitation against silver threatening to destroy its value and use as money is a blunder and a crime, which can only result in a devaluation of values without any compensation, doubling the purchasing power of gold for the exclusive benefit of the interest-bearing capital of the country at the expense of bread winners, diminishing their wages and injuring the producing and tax-paying classes. We declare that silver being a part of our labor and capital as well as gold, its demonetization is unnecessary, unwise, unjust, and pernicious, and that the present law ordaining the coinage of silver as a full legal tender should be left undisturbed.

Resolved, That we demand of Congress the exercise of all its constitutional power for the speedy suppression of polygamy in the Territory of Nevada.

Resolved, That we demand that every citizen shall be protected in his constitutional right to cast a free ballot and have it honestly counted.

Resolved, That we approve of all legislation which tends to promote honesty and efficiency in the civil service of the country.

Resolved, That we renew our demand for the establishment by the General Government of a postal telegraph service.

Resolved, That the great act by the Republican party of the emancipation of the people of African descent, a people held for a century in the bondage of slavery and ignorance, has imposed a solemn obligation upon the National Government to aid in the cost of educating the freedmen and their children so that they shall become fit to discharge the duties of American citizenship.

Resolved, That monopolies oppressing the people, or unfairly discriminating against them, are wrong in principle and should not be tolerated. To that end we regard with favor the proposed enactment of a law by Congress establishing a National Railroad Commission to investigate the oppressions of railroad corporations, or other legislative action having for its object the relief of the people.

Resolved, That the public domain is the heritage of the American people, and we are in favor of the enactment of such laws as will forbid the alienation of the soil by foreign corporations and foreign landholders.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Convention the success of the Republican party would be assured by the nomination of James G. Blaine for President; yet, without instructing the delegates this day appointed, but imposing full confidence in their integrity and wisdom, we place on record our firm conviction that they will meet the unanimous sentiment of the Republican party of this State if they support the candidature of Mr. Blaine in the National Convention, and we hereby pledge the Republican party of Nevada to support the nominees of that Convention.

Resolved, That the following named persons shall be divided into four Election Districts constituted as follows: Reno—Four delegates to State Convention. Wadsworth—One delegate to State Convention.

Reno—H. A. Waldo, W. N. Knox and Morris May. Clark—J. H. Berman, James Foxwell and Charles G. Huling. Glendale—Henry Whistler, George Alt and A. J. Smith.
